FALL MAKES APPEAL FOR CHANGE OF POLICY

Urge Congress to Open Border Towns to Shipment of Arms to Both Sides in Mexican Rebellion.

BACON ENDORSES SUGGESTION

Says Let the Educated Mexican Take Up Arms and Establish Order—Retaliations Now Against Citizens of United States.

Washington, June 27.—A change in the attitude of the United States toward the warring factions in Mexico was urged in the Senate today with the result that the foreign relations committee of that body is to take up the question immediately.

Senator Fall of New Mexico attacked the present policy and called for the recall of the so-called neutrality resolution of the last congress. Under this authority, he said, arms were permitted to go across the border to the Huerta faction, but were prevented by the armed forces of the United States from going to the factions opposed to Huerta.

Senator Fall praised the Wilson administration for refusing to recognize what he termed the "communist of the revolution" of Mexico as the established government in the republic; but he denied the practice of the administration in allowing arms to go to one faction and not the other, had resulted in rendering steps toward American citizens that no other nation on earth would permit.

His speech brought a resolution from Senator Bacon, chairman of the foreign relations committee, that was referred by some as voicing the attitude of the administration.

Senator Bacon said the solution for the present difficulties in Mexico lay in the educated classes, taking up arms to establish order. Enough such men existed in Mexico City alone, he said, to establish order in the whole republic.

He added that for the United States to attempt to protect its citizens by arms in Mexico meant intervention and occupation probably for all time.

Senator Bacon further advocated the United States taking possession of Lower California in compensation for Americans killed and American property destroyed in Mexico.

Senator Williams joined in urging the House of Representatives to act.

Senator Bacon asserted that the committee would soon consider the question.

As a member of the committee which investigated the Madero revolution, Senator Fall declared he was convinced that not an American dollar was used in financing the Madero revolt. He believed it had been financed in part at least with $200,000 which Chihuahua Madero, since executed, received by funds from the French-owned bank of Paris to build the Mexican Central railroad in Mexico.

The continuing exportation of arms by the revolutionaries after Madero had been overthrown, Fall declared, was the result of the Mexican government's own fault that Americans had been held for ransom and released.

Mr. Fall told the Senate it was his impression that after Madero came in, the Mexican government would be held responsible for the money spent by the revolutionaries and that a portion of the funds taken by the bandits for which General Madero received a large sum. The fall-off never did take place.

Victory to Conservatives.

Report of the First of Mexican Fed.

Washington, June 27.—An important state official of a timely conservative group above mentioned has announced that one of the most prominent members of the conservative party of the country is to be named as the head of the landholders of the state for which General Madero received a large sum. The fall-off never did take place.

The conservatives have begun repairing the bridges below Orizaba, planning to proceed to Guanajuato.

No Successor to Brown.

Mexico City, June 27.—The failure of the directors of the National railway of Mexico to accept the resignation of H. M. Brown, president of the railroad, yesterday leaves the identity of the new head of the system undetermined. Mr. Brown has announced that he will be relieved by the first of next month. The directors, however, are anxious to retain Mr. Brown in his office and it is believed the Mexican government will yet make this position.

Two Centuries of Patriotic Work.

Washington, June 27.—The following resolutions for postmaster of Texas were announced today:

J. C. S. Morrow, Quanah; Maggie McRae, Waco; Robert Greenwood, Marfa; J. T. Jones, Winters; E. R. Hopkins, Mineral Wells; L. H. Richards, Silverton.

Harper and Prendegast Vote Davidson Out as Chief Justice

Austin, June 27.—After hearing arguments from both sides, Justice W. L. Hill, presiding in the court of criminal appeals, voted yesterday to sustain the indictment against George A. Wilson, who was indicted for the murder of his wife.

The two elements are believed to have been lost of the charge.

Judge Prendegast was appointed to the seat of criminal appeals by Governor Clement, he declared yesterday.

Judge Davidson was born near Greenwood, Ark., in 1858, came to Texas in 1878 and was admitted to the bar in 1882. He was a member of the bar association of the state, and was a member of the Texas Bar Association. He died in 1908.

PLAN OF PACIFICS IS NEAR APPROVAL

PART OF S. P. STOCK TO GO TO THE PENNSYLVANIA ROAD.

BALANCE TO BE HELD IN TRUST

To Be Later Sold—President Delaix His Departure to Talk It Over With McReynolds.

Washington, June 27.—President Wilson late today brushed aside all plans for a week's trip to Cornish, N. H.—the summer capital—to examine immediately the tentative agreement reached between Attorney General McReynolds and the railroad attorneys for the dissolution of the Union Pacific merger, in order to prevent, if possible, the railroad combination from being thrown into the hands of a receiver. Unless a method of dismembering the Union Pacific and Southern Pacific, satisfactory to the judges of the United States court for the eighth circuit is submitted by July 1, the United States supreme court has ordered the dissolution of the merger by government receivership.

A supreme effort is being made by the president and the attorney general to prevent this drastic alternative by an agreement on a plan adequate to meet the demands of the Sherman anti-trust law and the mandate of the supreme court. Officials tonight freely predicted that the government and the railroad would present an agreed plan to the court within the time limit, although it was stated that the government's approval in all probability would be qualified.

In submitting the plan to the court, it is proposed to ask the judges to give a limited time before entering a final decree within which objections displayed in the light of further study of the preparations may be filed by the government or any of the other parties interested.

To Attack Jones.

El Paso, June 27.—Dr. Samuel Navarro, surgeon in the constitutional army, subordinate to General Francisco Villa, arrived here this afternoon from Campeche, Yucatan, via Commerce, N. M. He says Villa's forces are divided into three columns and marching to attack Juarez from as many directions. United States army officials report developments of the constitutionalists at Ascension, Palomas and opposite Stern Blanca. Dr. Navarro asserts that Col. Juan Diaz, commanding one of Villa's columns, is camping between on the north shore of Lake Casitas, with 500 men.

Villa's forces, numbering about 2,000 cavalry, is descending on 12 rifles and dynamite to capture the border port, according to "Madero's Witness." He says that their columns have no artillery or machine guns, but are well supplied with side carbines.

MAKE GIRL ASHAMED

Remarkable Statement From Texas Lady Concerning New Earth Product, Vitalitas.

The following from the Houston Chronicle will be of interest in Waco: "Mrs. Emma Smith of 2510 Webster, this city, has given out this statement regarding the new earth liquid known as Vitalitas:

"I feel it my duty to publicly express the prayer of gratitude offered to my God for placing Vitalitas within my reach. I was a physical wreck with female troubles, that had become so complicated, due to allowing them to run on, that my death would have been a relief. Toward the last my condition was drooping and I had to give up my house work. When I would try to get up in the morning and dress I would have to stand and hold to the bed, until my blood would circulate through my swollen joints. I would not dare turn loose my hold to take a step. This lasted until I finally gave up entirely. Through the advice of a friend I tried Vitalitas and today I am well—a sound woman, having gained seven pounds in weight. I can make a girl of 17 ashamed of herself in doing kitchen and house work. After taking Vitalitas four times a day for three weeks and rubbing my swollen joints with it I was able to return to my household duties. I used Vitalitas for two months longer, at the end of which time I was completely cured."

There are no ends of cases where Vitalitas restored life and health after everything else had failed and death was near at hand. It is Nature's most wonderful invigorant, corrective and curative. Man cannot make it. It is produced wholly by Nature and is the rarest combination of natural properties and forces known to science. All disorders of stomach, liver, kidneys and blood are overcome and cured by it.

The way in which Vitalitas is extracted is being shown in miniature at the Powers-Kelly drug store; see it and question the Vitalitas man. It is fully guaranteed. (Adv.)

Chinese Buy Island.

Stockton, Cal., June 27.—Woo Foon and Woo Sung of San Francisco and Woo Jung Hay and Woo Kee of San Joaquin county, placed deeds on record today showing they had formed a syndicate and purchased a part of Venice Island, one of the most productive of the Delta region. The island is divided into fifteen camps, one of which has been procured by the Chinese.

This is one of the biggest land deals on record here in which Orientals have participated. It anticipates operation of the anti-alien laws. The syndicate paid a very high price for the land.

Foreign Missions Discussed.

Waynesville, N. C., June 27.—Delegates to the general missionary conference of the Methodist Episcopal church South tonight heard W. T. Ellis of Swarthmore, Pa., discuss "The Turning Point of the Nations." Mr. Ellis was followed by Rev. Edbert W. Smith, Nashville, Tenn., executive secretary of the foreign missions committee of the Southern Presbyterian church, whose subject was "Stewardship." A feature of the morning session was an address by Bishop E. R. Hendrix of the college of bishops, in which he vividly described conditions in Mexico as observed during his recent tour of missions inspection.

JOHNSON SAFE ON TOURIST TICKET

CANADA CANNOT EXPEL TRANSIENT ALIEN WITH IMMIGRATION TRANSPORTATION.

HE SAYS HE IS COMING BACK

After He Has Had His Fight in Russia—Chicago Did Not Know of Departure.

Washington, June 27.—Jack Johnson has made good his escape from the United States for the time being at least and can neither be extradited nor deported from Canada, according to the latest official view here.

Johnson, it has been learned, is traveling on a tourist ticket and Canada cannot return him because her immigration law does not exclude a transient alien in such circumstances.

Johnson's offense is not extraditable in Canada.

Officials here were making an effort today to have the negro returned to this country under the Canadian immigration laws, but it has failed.

If the United States circuit court of appeals sustains Johnson's conviction his one year sentence for violating the white slave law will be enforceable any time he returns to the United States.

Must Leave Canada.

Montreal, June 27.—Jack Johnson visited a local newspaper office today seeking information as to the attitude of the United States authorities toward his departure. He said that while he did not inform the Chicago police that he was leaving for Russia, he had been told by a United States government special agent named DeWoody that nobody could stop him, as he was out on bail. He asserted that he did not intend to run away and was ready to give himself up to the authorities if they wanted him. Otherwise he would sail for Europe on Sunday.

Johnson was notified by the police this afternoon that provided he kept his word and left Canada within a day or so he would not be arrested.

To the immigration officials Johnson said that on June 25 he purchased two through tickets in Chicago for Havre, in the name of himself and wife, and left the next night, experiencing no difficulty in crossing the line.

Johnson said he was fully advised of his rights and privileges before leaving Chicago. He was allowed to depart, but it is understood a further observation will be made before he goes aboard the Corinthian. Immigration officials stated that they were acting independently of the United States officials and that no official communication with reference to Johnson had been received from Washington or Chicago.

Must Have Through Ticket.

Ottawa, Ont., June 27.—Jack Johnson, on bond in Chicago pending appeal from a white slave case conviction, does not at once prove to the immigration officials at Montreal that he holds a through ticket to France or St. Petersburg, as he claims he will be arrested and sent back to Chicago. Further, if Johnson holds such a ticket, he must use it without delay. This announcement was made today by the Canadian immigration authorities.

Johnson came into Canada through Windsor on last Wednesday. No official word had been received that he had been convicted of crime, and he met the immigration requirements.

View of Johnson's Attorney.

Chicago, June 27.—Benjamin Bacharach, attorney for Jack Johnson, asserted today that under the terms of the $15,000 bond, Johnson's actions are not circumscribed and that he is pledged only to appear in court when wanted. In the district attorney's office it was asserted the bond was intended to hold the pugilist at all times within the court's jurisdiction.

Government counsel, when application for the bond's reduction was made, argued that $15,000 was a sufficient sum to influence the actions of a man of Johnson's earning power. The negro is reputed to be worth $100,000.

Attorney Bacharach said Johnson asserted he could make $200,000 in Europe.

With reference to the report from Montreal that Charles E. DeWoody, local agent of the department of justice, had advised Johnson that the bond could not hold him, DeWoody said he had never discussed the matter with the fighter.

About two months ago Johnson started for Canada, but was apprehended at Battle Creek. Then he was under bond aggregating $60,000.

Johnson was then admonished by Federal Judge Carpenter that he must remain within the court's jurisdiction. According to DeWoody the matter of reducing Johnson's bond came up suddenly a few days ago and he did not know of it until half an hour after the application was granted.

The news was brought to him then by Assistant District Attorney Parke, who opposed the reduction in court.

Please for Commerce Court.

Washington, June 27.—Representative Brouard of Louisiana, champion of the commerce court in the house, issued a statement tonight contending that only the judiciary committee could report a resolution for the abolition of the court, and that further directions from the caucus would be necessary. Today's agreement by the rules committee was to abolish the commerce court through a specific provision in the deficiency appropriation bill, was informal, and the matter of asking that the judiciary committee bring in a resolution of which a rule can be reported may be considered later.

Upholds Full Crew Law.

Philadelphia, June 27.—The supreme court of Pennsylvania affirmed today a lower court, upholding the constitutionality of the "full crew law." The Pennsylvania railroad, which sought to restrain the state railroad commission from enforcing the law, claimed it would increase the road's expenses nearly half a million dollars annually, without providing additional safeguards for the traveling public.

The law is similar to those of Arkansas and Indiana, which have been passed upon by the United States supreme court.

EMPIRE EXPRESS FILES SUIT

Demand Service Over the Trinity and Branso Valley Railroad.

Dallas, June 27.—An application for a mandatory injunction and damages against the Trinity & Branso Valley railroad was filed with District Clerk Williams by the Empire Express company, recently organized and with headquarters in Dallas. The application was sent to Hon. Kenneth Force, judge of the Fourteenth district court, and the hearing was set down for next Wednesday, July 2.

This action on the part of the express company is to compel the railroad to enter into an agreement to carry the company's express at the same terms and agreements as those entered into with the American Express company. The company alleges damages in the sum of $1500 for each month by the refusal of the railroad to handle its business.

The petition is one of the lengthiest of the kind filed in the district court. It covers twenty-five closely typewritten pages and charges that the Empire Express company had been refused a contract with the defendant railway company. It charges that this refusal was a violation of the antitrust laws of Texas and of Articles 6616 and 6617, which requires railroads to carry the business of express companies.

The plaintiff's petition gives the terms and conditions by which the American Express company is doing business over defendant's line. It alleges that the Empire Express company made an offer to the railroad offering $4000 per month to do business over the line for an exclusive right or $2000 for a joint right. The petition alleges that this proposition was never answered.

The petition also alleges that the Empire company was refused the right, the officials said, that another company had offered more money.

The petition was filed by Attorney J. E. Gilbert, general attorney for the Empire Express company. The necessary bonds also were filed and the case set for hearing next Wednesday.

MAN CONFESSES TO BRIBERY

Former City Councilman Tells of the Passing of the Funds for Votes.

St. Louis, June 27.—Investigation into alleged municipal irregularities in East St. Louis, Ill., culminated today in the publication of a sworn confession of bribery made by Joseph Frazier, former member of the East St. Louis city council. State Attorney Webb recently announced he would lay any evidence of municipal irregularity before the grand jury in September and would offer immunity to any guilty person who should aid the state.

The confession of Frazier details two alleged acts of bribery—the payment of $5000 for a franchise granting the East St. Louis Interurban Railway company the right to lay tracks on certain streets of the city and the payment of $3000 for a franchise granting the Alton & Southern the right to cross certain streets.

Six members of the city council shared in the division of the first $2000 he says and four in the division of the second $3000. Both bribes were paid in 1912, it was charged.

Charles G. Lambert, then mayor of East St. Louis, is named as the man who handed the man in the council $1500, which was refused as insufficient. Lambert, it is said, went to John L. Flannigan, then counsel for the railroad company, and later corporation counsel of East St. Louis, and got from the latter $5000.

Lambert's home was closed today. Neighbors said he had left the city early today, saying he would not return until Monday.

Frazier is under indictment in another case on a charge of obtaining money by fraud from a money lender.

FIVE DEATHS FROM HEAT

Chicago Temperature Reaches Almost the Record—At Pierre, S. D., It Was 104.

Chicago, June 27.—Five deaths and numerous prostrations were attributed to the heat wave in Chicago today to the heat wave. Chicago shows no signs of diminishing. At 4 p. m. the temperature was a fraction over 94. The weather service said the warmest place in the country was Pierre, S. D., where the temperature was 104.

An intense heat with no relief in sight for the next few days is predicted for Chicago and the Middle West in a special bulletin issued today by Henry J. Cox, official weather forecaster for this district.

At 8 o'clock this afternoon the temperature was 95 degrees, only three less than the high record.

Scores of persons have been bitten by thimble-sized dogs.

President McCormick of the county board stated that much suffering was felt in the jail. The place had been outgrown, he said, and as many as four prisoners were being held in cells originally built to hold one.

Four Prostrations.

St. Louis, June 27.—This city and the state in general today experienced the hottest weather of the year, the temperature reaching 98 degrees. Four prostration were reported.

Dozen Prostrations at Detroit.

Detroit, June 27.—A dozen prostrations by heat occurred here today. The maximum temperature reported by the weather bureau was 95. The government thermometer on the street level registered 105.

Boston Has Ten Prostrations.

Boston, June 27.—Boston sweltered today under the effects of heat and high humidity. Ten persons were prostrated up to midnight. The maximum temperature in the city proper was 89 degrees. One suicide of a mill weaver in Pawtucket was attributed to the heat.

Seven in New York Hospital.

New York, June 27.—Although the maximum temperature in this city today was only 94, the heat was accompanied by excessive humidity. Seven cases of prostration were treated at hospitals.

KATE FRIEND, Editor

MRS. A. W. KOCH ENTERTAINS FOR MRS. ALONZO

In special courtesy to Mrs. Alonso of Guatemala City, Mrs. A. W. Koch is forming a game of bridge out at the Husco club this morning. Three tables will be used.

A CARD AU REVOIR TO MISS REYNAUD

Today Miss Reynaud, who has visited at the Curtis house, is taking home passage for Houston. As a pleasure for her last afternoon, Mr. Robert Coleman formed a small game of bridge.

LITTLE VIRGINIA COLEMAN HAS SECOND BIRTHDAY

All of 2 years old to little Miss Virginia Coleman. Her first birthday was celebrated so the second could be likewise. The cake was baked, set with the two tiny candles, and the babies of the neighborhood called in to play and to cut it.

MR. AND MRS. FRANK HOWELLS TELL OF COMING MARRIAGE

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Howells of West Columbus street announce the coming marriage of their daughter, Nannette, to J. P. McGrath. This will take place on the morning of the eighth of June at 10 o'clock, at the First Presbyterian church. There will be no cards of invitation.

THE LILY AUCTION AT THE HUAGO CLUB

In the last game of the Lily Auction at the Huago Club Mrs. J. Neale had to play her hand. Mrs. Van Wyck and Mrs. William Brewster were to her substitute. Clinton Padgett. The scores ran unusually high, and this meant, of course, interest proportionate. The final count gave the award to Mrs. A. W. Koch.

MRS. CHARLES HAMILTON MAKES CARD ANNOUNCEMENT

Mrs. Hamilton as the last hostess for the Young Married Ladies' Euchre announces to the members that the final game of this season will be in her home on Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. The scores for the year have gone to the adding machine, and the leader for the season will then be announced.

ROSS PADGITT HOST FOR FOREST GOODMAN

As one of the special dinner parties at the Friday night assembly for the Husco club, Ross Padgett was host in courtesy to Forest Goodman, who is at home for his first furlough since entering West Point Academy. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dupree were the chaperones. Mr. Padgett had for his other guests the Misses Edwina Sturgis, Lucile Lewis and Ethel Foster with Annie Adams.

MR. AND MRS. R. I. DARDEN WITH MR. AND MRS. W. E. DARDEN

Cards have been received by friends here and elsewhere, both in and out of the state, which announce the marriage of R. I. Darden of Los Angeles to Miss Beatrice Cowan of Mart. Following the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Darden arrived in Waco, made a short visit to Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Darden, and then took passage for Ellet, where an attractive new home is waiting.

MISS NELL ORAND

On the lawn of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Orand of Columbus street, Miss Neil Orand was presented to the members of her club, the C. A. T. Two special guests were the Misses Janet Matthews and Mary Sleeper from Abilene. Escorting the continental boys were the Misses Edwina Goodman, Leah Franklin, Anna Komenda, Helen Komenda and Jacqueline Komenda. A refreshment party was served, during which programs were heard, and good music provided. In all, Miss Neil Orand made heroes of quite an enjoyable evening.

DR. AND MRS. R. S. WOOD HAVE MOOSE CLUB GUESTS

Recently Miss Pauline has come from Philadelphia to join the household of her sister, Mrs. R. S. Wood on Washington street. Since Miss Pauline is to remain permanently, Dr. and Mrs. Wood invited a company of more than thirty to enjoy a dinner with their sister. This took place at the Moose Club, and found the special guests members of Mrs. Wood's winter vacation. The Misses Edwina Goodman, Leah Franklin, Anna Komenda, Helen Komenda and Jacqueline Komenda. A refreshment party was served, during which programs were heard, and good music provided. In all, Miss Pauline made heroes of quite an enjoyable evening.

FRIENDS AND FAMILY GO TO HUOGO CITY

For the funeral of J. B. McDonald of Hubbard City, the Misses Walter Baker and Russell, also Victor Corbin, as relatives, together with a number of prominent men as friends, went over to Hubbard City. Miss Julie McDonald, whose frequent visits here make her almost a Wacoan, and Mrs. E. B. Corbin, were also there. The organists represented almost the state. Automobiles, the trains and carriages gave one of the most ornate funerals known to the town where Mr. McDonald was so highly regarded.

A QUESTION OF SYMPATHY.

A writer in the London Chronicle concludes that memory, evidently, is a matter of sympathy: "we remember the things we are really interested in." On this conclusion he treats of freaks of memory, as Mark Twain's pilot who knew every bend, creek, current and shallow in the Mississippi but could not remember what he had for breakfast; a man of his acquaintance who can remember person's ages but not their names, the times of all trains to a given place but not the stations from which they start. We might accept the Chronicler's theory in America, but if we were to illustrate it we would take an instance of the fact that personal loans break friendship and point to the man who remembers, for the edification of mutual acquaintance, all our small vices but forgets absolutely that he borrowed five from us gawdinose when in this regard undoubtedly memory is a matter of sympathy and the personal debtor is nothing if not unsympathetic.

The National Congress of Alpinists and Neurologists in adopting a resolution urging railroads not to employ men who use alcoholic beverages at any time unintentionally paid a high compliment to our national sobriety, for the possibility of having to suspend railroad operations under these circumstances was not even mentioned.

Some of the New York papers have seen in the birth of four tiger cubs at the zoo a happy omen for Tammany, but, says the Boston Transcript, they "should remember that the little fellows were born behind the bars and that they all wear stripes." Then let us find in the event an happy omen for the four million.

Said Nettie Camm to Caminetti, "I think McNab is very pretty." "As pretty as a small-neck clam," said Caminetti to Nettie Camm. (By way of excusing the above's common fault of being in imitation of Adams's column in the Evening Mail, we explain that it is not intended as a contribution to same.)

Something in the nature of a grin may be permitted one who reads our supreme court's decision that there is no reason why breweries should be penalized because there are hypocrites in dry counties.

Among the joys promised for July 1 may be mentioned the operation of the Texas 9:30 closing law, another strike of West Virginia coal miners and editorial reviews of the expired fiscal year.

One has no hesitation, if it is possible for him to work up any feeling at all in the matter, in expressing the hope that the Servians will keep it up and the Bulgarians will be kept down.

It is none of our business, but it occurs to us that the Hon. Curtis Guild, robbed of $1,000 cash and a $50,000 letter of credit in Paris, was not in Paris merely for a rest.

"The president ought to dismiss McReynolds and retain McNab," howls Herrington. Certainly. And a surgeon ought to amputate a sound limb and nurse a diseased.

Please characteristically consider that in a State whose governor openly commanded lynching federal aid in support of the militia certainly would be money wasted.

A LESSON FROM OREGON.

From the little city of Marshfield, Oregon, comes a bit of news that is good to read. It is related that business houses closed for an hour, Wednesday last, "while proprietors joined several hundred other men in driving two Industrial Workers of the World leaders out of town, with warnings never to return. The citizens then marched to the building where the workers have been accustomed to gather and gave notice that all other members of the organization and their sympathizers would be similarly treated. The deported pair was placed in a small boat, supplied with food for a day or two and taken eighteen miles from town before they were allowed to land. The Industrial Workers have been involved in several strikes in the sawmills of this region lately"—is the conclusion and explanation of the dispatch and this commendable performance of the citizens of Marshfield.

In the word, "citizens" is the warrant for this resort in little to the methods of the erstwhile vigilance committee. Here was no rioting; self-respecting business men and honest folk took the law into their own hands before it should become necessary to ask the strong protection of the law against more serious trouble. If anyone without the membership of the I. W. W. has attempted to justify merely the existence of this organization the defense—for it would have to be a defense—has escaped our notice. Against the honest claims of labor that is honestly organized and maintains honest dealing in its organization, no right-minded man has the least objection. The unabused protection of labor's rights and improvement of labor's condition is a strong, great principle. The best of organized labor no longer does violence under any circumstances; it arbitrates in circumstances of little or great seriousness. I. W. W. agitators have no other prescription than violence. There is no antidote than violence for the poison they urge on labor. In the larger industrial centers attempted action of the sort taken by the Marshfield men would, of course, result in a dangerous riot and much injury to men and property, for the I. W. W. trouble makers could muster a reckless gang; but even such a riot precipitated by citizens for the assurance of future peace and order surrounding the conduct of their city's business would be wholly justifiable and incomparably more respectable than to permit these menaces to continue their disgraceful work uninterrupted. Where a movement against the security of labor and homes is concerned, few will blame citizens otherwise peaceful and law-abiding who do not wait to call on the police and the militia when that movement has gained disastrous head. In a situation of this sort the law is applied too late.

Continuous Performance of the Ten, Twenty, Thirtieth Order.

Col. Mike Welker, of the Beaumont Enterprise, noted that in the local hearing of the oil companies' ousted suit the grand young man of the prodigious prosecution, the Hon. Maury, tilted with witness Courtney Marshall, and "exclaimed with some heat: 'I am tired of this vaudeville performance,' meaning the amusement furnished by Mr. Marshall's answers. Much as we admire the sketch we admire its author not at all, and if Mr. Elbert Hubbard says it was Rowell, and Judge George McQuaid says it was Blue who blew in at the exigent moment, why, Blue it was, and we've nothing more to say.

Continuous Performance of the Ten, Twenty, Thirtieth Order.

The teachers' pension law, granting pensions of $500 a year to all teachers who have been in service thirty years.

The net container law, specifying that packages shall show the amount of net contents.

The weight and measures law, providing for a complete standard of weights and measures and regular inspection of dealers.

The Roberta bill, forbidding the destruction of any foodstuff fit for human consumption.

The state civil service law, bringing practically all state employees under the merit service.

The creation of a state housing and immigration commission to prepare for the coming of immigrants with the opening of the Panama canal.

Prison reform. All sentences except for murder are made indeterminate; straitjackets and cold showers are prohibited, and arrangements are made for the payment of wages to state's prison convicts and for assistance to discharged prisoners.

The milk inspection law, providing for strict regulation of dairies.

The white slave law, prohibiting traffic in women between countries.

The tuberculosis law, providing for the reporting of such cases.

Amendment to the liquor laws, forbidding the sale of liquor between 3 a. m. and 6 a. m.

Creation of a commission to investigate the question of old-age pensions.

The workmen's compensation law, requiring compulsory compensation for injuries and establishing a system of state industrial insurance.

The water conservation law, establishing a water commission with authority over all water in the state. Conservation is a subject in which the women of California have taken keen interest.

The psychopathic parole law, providing for the parole of persons mentally abnormal, but not dangerously insane, under the custody of psychiatric parole officers.

The bill board law, limiting bill boards to ten feet in height and prohibiting signs of more than that height.

The bastardy law, requiring fathers to help support illegitimate children.

A law providing for the sterilization of inmates of insane asylums and certain convicts.

The creation of mosquito control districts.

The requirement of the wife's signature to legalize the assignment of a man's wages.

The amendment to the child labor law, raising the age of child workers from 14 to 15.

What's the Matter With the Boy? (Detroit Free Press.)

We are giving considerable attention to our girls these days, investigating their ways with a view to ascertaining its relation to immorality and urging means for their protection. But the case of the boy seems to attract less notice.

Any one who is downtown evenings must observe the number of lads who saunter about in groups aimlessly, who would appear, finally drifting into the "movies" or the vaudeville houses, coming out in an hour or so ready for anything that promises amusement, because it is the only thing to do home." They are being educated on the street and the education is in them that saunter.

There are many things that boys are doing today that are deplorable and debase them. There is no mistaking that the public never thinks of much sinning that is breaking mothers' hearts. There are many evils that the law does not and legally cannot prevent. Think of colored boys who have already contracted the cocaine habit, and others who have fingers indicate constant vice elsewhere. How do children shake themselves, the sole of which is innocent? What penalty to too severe for those who waste and prostitute their bodies for the sake of gain?

Speaking of Sidewalks.

Jacksonville Progress calls on its townsmen to do likewise, with the reminder that just a few sidewalks add much to the appearance of their section and enhance their property's value considerably. Show the State is not overkindly disposed to the Underwood bill, let's overlook no opportunity to swat the "infected" industries of the state even as we are being swatted—Editor Whitley therefore also may remind Jacksonvillians that sidewalks don't do a thing to the rubberboot factories.

Excuse, Please.

Col. Claude Callan, maker of the Menard Messenger (the "colonel" being merely to amplify artistic alliteration) accuses us of confusing him with Austin Callan of Del Rio in commenting on the Eagle Pass newspaper's mention of Austin as being among those not present at a petty poker party that was raided in Del Rio. We admit "Callan" alone caught our eye, and who could connect the name with anyone but the Menard mirthmaker?

California's Record. (Woman's Journal.)

The California legislature that has just adjourned was the first to meet since women got the ballot. It is said to have made a finer record in the way of advanced legislation desired by women than the legislatures of the past twenty-five years put together. Here is a list of its main achievements:

The mother's pension law, granting aid to needy parents in order to keep their children at home rather than have them committed to institutions.

The health certificate law, requiring a certificate of freedom from venereal diseases of all men before obtaining marriage licenses.

The minimum wage law, creating a commission to investigate the conditions of industry of women and children, with power to invoke a minimum wage in industries paying less than a living wage.

The red light abatement and injunction law, placing the responsibility of disorderly houses upon the owners and lessees rather than upon the inmates, and forbidding such houses.

The joint guardianship law, giving mothers equal rights over their minor children.

The juvenile court law, separating dependent from delinquent children.

The extension of the eight-hour law for women to include workers in apartment houses and nurses in training.

The age of consent law, raising the age from 16 to 21.

The State Training School for Girls, providing a separate institution for girls, with the most approved correctional methods and thorough vocational training.

The teachers' pension law, granting pensions of $500 a year to all teachers who have been in service thirty years.

The net container law, specifying that packages shall show the amount of net contents.

The weight and measures law, providing for a complete standard of weights and measures and regular inspection of dealers.

The Roberta bill, forbidding the destruction of any foodstuff fit for human consumption.

The state civil service law, bringing practically all state employees under the merit service.

boys are often in absolute ignorance of the kind of books they read. Every now and then we hear of boys of ten or a dozen years who rob the top bureau drawer and armed with the family carving-knife get as far west as Dearborn with the intention of exterminating Indians. This is the fruit of their reading, a direct example of the influence of books on the plastic mind. Parents laugh, and say the mood will pass. So it will; but not until it has made an indelible impression. And the wild west romances, with all their teachings in violation of the Decalogue, are not the tenth part so pernicious as some other sorts of reading circulated by stealth, or the communications of corrupt companions whose acquaintance was made on the streets.

The boy has all the primal instincts of his sex to contend with. They were born with him. He has to learn the necessity of adjusting himself to a conventional life—a life of restraint and restriction. He has a strong tendency to imitation, both of his companions and his favorite heroes; and he is left to learn from the former.

The trouble with our boys is that their parents are too busy trying to get rich, or arguing the rights of women, or exercising the right of making good men of their sons. It were well to recall the words of Nehemiah when the walls of Jerusalem were to be restored: "Let every man build over against his own house."

The view makes it clear that it has not always been plain sailing for even the most successful of the big fire companies. The one in question was virtually ruined by the Chicago fire in 1871 and again by the Boston fire in 1872. The losses were made good by an assessment of 60 per cent in the first year and of 30 per cent in the second. So the stock dividends are not all water. Moreover, it is shown that none of the dividends paid to stockholders have been derived from underwriting profits. They have been earned by the investments of the company. Such a concern virtually consists of two parts, one devoted to investments and the other to insurance. They work together because the investment concern furnishes financial stability to carry the insurance department through almost any sort of crisis. That this sort of support to the indemnity offered by the insurance company is necessary is shown by the fact that in Massachusetts alone fifty-six fire insurance companies have failed or retired from business in the last fifty years. Only a few of the old ones remain. These are companies that have succeeded by good management and by enrolling great care in making investments to pile up enough surplus to carry them through periods of extraordinary loss.

In the West in particular the feeling is strong that these large accumulations of insurance funds represent extravagant profits. The record shows that these great profits have been accompanied by great losses, and that on the whole the record is fairly even. There can be no doubt, however, that the business is conducted on an enormous scale, and this no doubt makes such insurance the burdensome. Efforts to improve may well be directed at this feature of the business.

International Sunday School Lesson

Review: The Victories of Faith

Second Quarter, Lesson 10

June 28, 1913.

The illustration of the story of Joseph is that it is true. It is a cross-section of human life. You see the ambitions and motives of mankind in action, stirring and impelling. That is what makes it universal and potentially applicable. It has no parallel or mortal illustrations. That famous twenty-five million copies (the largest annual circulation of the world) is given over entirely to this title. It attracts their attention to this title of love and activity. The story of Joseph is a story of love, mingled with the pain and activity. It moves not only men, but it moves those who look at it. It has passed before each successive generation and around the strongest communications. It is the story of sin, its torments and penalties; exhibits the progress of awakening, conviction, and conversion; reveals the possibility of forgiveness and recompensation. . . . Extremes certainly meet in the story of Joseph. Murderous jealousy of his brothers is matched by his own self-pity and forgiving spirit. "As a sheep before shearers is shorn, so he opened not his mouth." Twenty years later the brothers appeared before an Egyptian prince to beg bread of him in famine. That prince, blessing in his jewels, is the creature from whom they once took sin and liberty. The brothers are knocking like mendicants at a palace over whom they preside. The next they are seated at a great banquet table and served by the prince in person. . . . But the narrative is not merely one of startling situations; it is fairly studded with ethical principles of priceless value. . . . Some incidents in Jacob's variegated career make fitting prelude to the history of Joseph. The destiny of the Hebrew race was within the narrow circumference of a bowl of soup when Isaac sold his birthright for a mess of pottage. In that barter both brothers were to be condemned; Joseph for his craftiness, Isaac for his Epicureanism. Jacob sought a spiritual thing in a worldly way. Isaac despised a spiritual thing and bartered it for the material. Isaac, drink, rises up, and goes away—goes to oblivion, where he belongs. Jacob, on the other hand, rises to greatness; not, however, because of his despotic craft, but in spite of it. . . . Isaac's prowess could easily outwit Jacob's plotting. Kind of rage of the natural hunter had not been counterbalanced by craft to the chieftainship. Hence follows a shelterless fugitive. Two commandments in God's law give him on his way to the forty years of exile. He now in a vision a rock staircase peopled with angels, and feels that the lonely place is really the gate of heaven. . . . A reverent No it seemed, when the heir to the chieftainship of Israel became a slave. Not whether an event is a reserve or not depends upon what God means by "I and the one man makes of it." If Joseph had become a man-hater and spent his time bewailing his hard lot, going as slave to Egypt would have been a reverse. On the contrary, he triumphed over circumstances and made himself indispensable to prince or priest-keeper or Pharaoh, as the case might be. . . . Joseph was a Rose

Comfort and Elegance

A genuine, tailored-made suit you can only obtain by leaving your order with an experienced tailor. The average man is measured for a suit, wants something better than he can get in a store that handles only ready-made. But, although he pays for a tailored-made suit, he can not get it unless it is made in town, so that he can try it on once or twice. I have a large stock of woolsens suitable for this particular time and season, and I am able to make a suit on very short notice.

Three Days of Jubilee for Farmers in August

Y. M. B. L. Proposes to Raise $6000 to Expend in a Big Time for the Country People.

Plans were discussed by the executive committee of the Y. M. B. L. yesterday which when completed will give to McLennan county one of the greatest picnics of the state to last for three days probably beginning Tuesday August 5.

It is proposed to make the occasion a "farmers' jubilee" with special rates, camping ground accommodations, prices for farm products and plenty of entertainment. The advertising committee for a daily attendance of 10,000 people will begin in a few days.

Among the suggestions made by members of the committee were the offering of an automobile to the pastor of the community who secured the registering of the largest percentage of the population of his community; country races at the Cotton Palace park and the inducement of all the local merchants having special sales during the three days for the benefit of the farmer. Displays of fireworks, free dinners, free shows will probably be arranged for the enjoyment of the visitors.

Yesterday was the first meeting of the general committee and the suggestions were only tentative, but the spirit of the committee was that the "McLennan County Jubilee Picnic" should be made second only to the Cotton Palace.

Sub-committees were appointed by Chairman L. Friedlander to arrange the details and they will report to the executive committee of the picnic next Tuesday night. Following this meeting definite plans will be announced.

It is proposed to raise something like $6,000. A committee to definitely select the location was appointed, but opinion expressed by those present was that the Cotton Palace park for exhibition and the Linkumster thicket as the camping place could not be surpassed.

Those present at the committee session were: L. Friedlander, Davis

SUPREME COURT HAS SESSION

Numerous Orders Are Made and Ad-journment Is Taken Until October Next

Austin, June 27.—Before final adjournment for the term today the supreme court announced the following proceedings:

Applications granted—Frank A. Springer et al vs. W. H. Fencler et al; El Paso County; A. L. Sheri et al; National bank of Horatio; Dean Smith; Pease & N. T. Ry. Co. vs. Laura Sutor et al; Potter; Southern Kansas Ry. Co. of Texas vs. C. H. Wallace; Potte.

Applications refused—Mrs. J. T. Sirman vs. Marshall and East Texas Ry. Co., Harrison; U. F. Short vs. Morris & Crow, Upshur; J. L. Wilson, guardian, vs. G. H. Brown, Brown.

Certified questions answered—Fort Worth Improvement district vs. City of Fort Worth, Tarrant.

Motions for rehearing granted—P. & N. T. Ry. Co. vs. Laura Sutor et al; Potter; So. Kans. Ry. Co. of Texas Potter.

Motions for rehearing overruled—S. F. Erp et al vs. J. T. Robinson, com-missioner (written opinion); Mandamus; I. & G. N. Ry. Co. vs. Anderson county et al; Anderson; H. B. Reed vs. S. C. Robertson, Lubbock; Brown Candy and Cracker Co. vs. Thomas A. Johnson, Dallas; Thompson Tucker

Lumber Co. vs. B. A. Platt, Trinity; T. L. Meeks and Morgan Jones of the Texas Short Line railroad. Mr. La-Be reported that the Texas Short Line owners have signed a contract with Martin Mills, in Van Zandt county, to extend the road to that place, and that the work of extension would begin in a short time. The people of Athens will make every effort to have the road extend on to Athens which is a distance of only fourteen miles. A road through this section would open one of the finest territories in Texas without railroad facilities.

Advertising the Chautauqua.

Hubbard, Tex., June 27.—Twenty-five autos filled with Hubbard boosters, headed by Mayor W. Q. Brown and the Hubbard band, left here at 9 o'clock this morning to advertise the Chautauqua which opens here July 7 and lasts a week. The itinerary includes Irene, Malone, Ponca, Mt. Calm, Prairie Hill, Della, Coolidge, Munger, Dawson and back to Hubbard, covering a distance of 85 miles.

Not an accident of any note occurred on the return of the boosters. Sanders Bros. served the entire party with free ice cream and soft drinks from their factory. It was decidedly the most successful advertising trip ever undertaken by Hubbard business men.

VOX POPULI

By common consent it is the voice of the people that has named the magnificent soda water fountain at Morrison's "Old Corner" drug store. You can hear it on the streets, in the houses, at the picture shows and everywhere—

"LET'S GO TO THE ARTESIAN SODA WATER FOUNTAIN AND ENJOY SOME OF THOSE DELIGHTFUL THINGS SERVED AT THAT SODA FOUNTAIN."

So you see that the people have named this soda fountain "The Artesian Soda Water Fountain," and we will let it stand at that. They are saying other things as well; for example, you hear the expression, "Let us go to the Artesian Soda Water Fountain, where they sterilize all of their glasses in boiling hot artesian water and where all of the dishes are washed in the basement."

This is the only place in Waco where these methods are pursued, and to say that the people appreciate it is evidenced by the way they flock to the Artesian Soda Fountain to slake their thirst and to enjoy the "Best-uv-all" ice cream, sherbets and other delightful things served.

If the service at the Artesian Soda Water Fountain is not the best in Waco, please tell us wherein we are mistaken. The Artesian Soda Water Fountain at Morrison's "Old Corner" drug store is doing more for the cause of temperance in this city and community than everything else combined.

Follow the people and you will find yourselves in the big 12-foot door that leads into the "Pride of Waco," which is

Deaths and Burials

Joseph Ernest Hensley.
The funeral of Joseph Ernest Hensley, aged 32 years, will be held this morning at 10 o'clock from the Fall Undertaking establishment.

Mr. Hensley died Thursday at the home of his sister, Mrs. W. A. Barnett of Taft, Texas, with whom he was visiting. He was the grandson of Col. R. N. Goode, early pioneer of this country and the mayor of Waco at one time. Deceased was a member of the local painters' union, each member claiming him as comrade. Practically the entire membership of the organization will attend the funeral services this morning. Burial will be had in Oakwood.

He is survived by his mother, Mrs.

Blanche Goode Bisbee of Houston, formerly a resident here; three sisters, Mrs. W. A. Barnett of Taft, Mrs. W. E. Bergman of Grandview and Mrs. A. A. Stripling of Nocona.

Mrs. McCutcheon Dies.
At 5 o'clock yesterday afternoon Dr. J. N. McCutcheon received a telegram announcing the death of his mother at Temple. Mrs. McCutcheon recently visited him and went to Temple last night.

COLLISION KILLS ONE.

Passenger Train Crashes Into Work Train.

Toledo, Ohio, June 27.—One man was killed, one fatally and eighteen seriously injured late today when a westbound Pennsylvania passenger train crashed head-on into a work train at Woodville, Ohio. Most of those injured were Greek employees of the railroad. The engine of both trains were wrecked and the engineers of both trains are in hospitals. Steve Ladis, a Greek, was the only man killed. The passenger train, 30 minutes late, was traveling at high speed. A sharp curve prevented the engineer from seeing the work train ahead. The coaches of the passenger train, protected by the baggage and mail cars ahead, were not damaged.

Storekeeper Shot.

Clarksville, Texas, June 27.—A white man named Barber, operating a store on Red river north of Clarksville, was shot and killed this morning. Jessie West, a farmer, has been arrested.

FETE BALTIMORE TRIPPERS AT PARK

ENTERTAINMENT WILL BE IN FORM OF OPEN AIR BOX LUNCHEON.

STANDING COMMITTEE NAMED

Telephone Captain's New Messenger Wrinkle-Sy-Love Are Envied.

Delegates who attended the annual convention of the Associated Ad Clubs of America at Baltimore will be entertained Thursday, July 10, by the Waco Ad club at an open-air box luncheon at the Cotton Palace Park. A band has been secured for the occasion. The luncheon will be open to all who care to come, the box of eats being procured when individual tickets are given the gateman on entering the park.

At this meeting the returned ad men will talk on the various subjects assigned them for report. Chairman of the committee in charge of the arrangements is A. D. Adams.

New by-laws and the amended constitution were presented by the revising committee, which was headed by H. I. Furman. Among other changes the constitution provides for a vigilante committee, one of the duties of which will be to pass on all advertising projects that have heretofore not received recognition or endorsement.

By unanimous vote, A. Trull of this city was admitted to membership of the club. He intends to enter the advertising field later.

President W. J. Mitchell read a letter from Richard Haughton, president of the Dallas Ad club, to the Adcrafters. He congratulated Waco on the showing that the boosting delegation made in Baltimore. He is now in Philadelphia visiting relatives.

According to a new arrangement suggested by President Mitchell, the membership is divided into telephone companies, each with a captain. The captain's duty will be to advise other members of the time, place and date of meeting nights, thus assuring a better attendance.

The telephone captains are H. T. Dennis, Lanigan Luodda, J. K. Powers, C. C. Shumway, G. Stratton, John F. Wright, Percy Willis, N. S. Hill, J. S. Smith, Dick Smith, J. F. Stamps, H. F. Lewis, Ed Vance, W. J. Dorsett, W. P. Killingsworth, J. L. Stowe, W. B. Yates, J. M. Millstead, George M. Knobbe, Norman H. Smith, N. M. Gay, T. A. Armstrong, J. H. Wilder, T. D. Barnett, H. C. McLarty, J. S. Crosslin, H. S. Lasenby, Charles E. Ewing, L. A. Dryden, W. T. Hartwick, Sam Sternberg, W. W. Seelye, Dr. L. Warshaw, W. C. Richter, L. W. Smith, William Abbot, L. S. Stell, S. B. Flanagan, J. H. Carothers, I. A. Goldstein, H. Bruck.

Standing Committee.

The following standing committees for the year were appointed:

Educational committee—E. R. Smith, chairman; J. W. Barnett, L. S. Henry, G. H. Jackson, J. E. Kuykendall.

Publicity committee—Dr. W. B. Georgia, chairman; S. E. Thompson, Hunt Jones, A. H. Dickson, E. A. Randolph.

Membership committee—J. K. Lewis, chairman; John Hill, Pas Hopkins, F. O. Arnold, L. B. McCulloch.

Vigilance committee—T. W. Robertson, chairman; W. J. Geister, J. D. Murray, W. C. Torbett, H. W. Quintus.

Convention committee—W. V. Grayford, chairman; H. Hagedorn, H. L. Furman, J. Mitchell Nash, A. Butler.

Emblems, pennant and badge committee—R. N. Mayfield, chairman; E. H. Hill, D. Y. Craddock, Joe Ranger.

Uniform committee—Will Lacy, chairman; R. H. Kyger, Dore Wood, G. H. Bruck, A. J. Bordelon.

On to Toronto committee—A. G. Steel, chairman; W. S. Hammond, G. C. Steiner, A. D. Adams, J. M. Clement, Treasurer on to Toronto fund, George S. McGhee.

Bonds Are Registered.

Austin, June 27.—Secretary of state, by order of the railroad commission, today registered $517,990 bonds for the Paris and Mount Pleasant railroad, and $830,795 for the I. & G. N. for additions and betterments. By this the valuation of the former line is increased $892,692 and the I. & G. N. to $2,151,625.

First County Election.

Austin, June 27.—Governor Colquitt today named July 26 as the date for holding a special election in Real county, at which time the county seat and county officers will be chosen. Real county was created by the thirty-third legislature out of Bandera and Kerr counties.

Martin Particulars.

Mrs. Alice Scheiblich is visiting friends of Galveston.

Mrs. G. A. Edwards and the Isaac Scheiblich have returned from a visit to Waco.

Rev. A. T. Walker, H. B. Hibbs, H. B. St. Clair, F. M. Jenkins, all of Teague, were in the city from Commerce, where they had been attending street meetings.

John E. Southwell of Leake was a Martin visitor.

Judge A. H. Blackwell of Waco, in Martin on his vacation, is to be succeeded by Mrs. E. C. Johnson.

Major Edward T. Williams, Waco, Texas, and his wife, Mrs. Williams, were in town on their vacation.

Frank W. Stillworth, age 46 years, died at the home of his sister, Mrs. Peyton, at 1 o'clock today. Deceased was reared here and has many friends throughout the country and state who will regret his death.

He has been in declining health for some time.

Attended Services.

J. W. Hicks, S. H. Thompson, F. A. Burkhardt and Maxine Thompson have returned from their vacation.

W. H. Nichols, Waco, was in town.

DENIES THE KILLING

BUS WYERS TAKES THE STAND IN HIS OWN BEHALF AT MARLIN.

Tells of His Wherabouts From Time of Tragedy Until Arrested—Says Others Committed Crime.

Marlin, June 27.—In the case of the State vs. Bus Wyers, the state rested yesterday at 4 p. m. without having introduced any eye-witness of the actual killing, and will rely upon circumstantial evidence for a conviction in this case.

The usual crowd was in the court room at 9 o'clock this morning when the introduction of evidence for the defense was begun.

C. G. Wren.

C. C. Wren, deputy sheriff of Falls county, was the first witness called for the defense.

Witness said that when he met Clyde Batey he was told that Dad Reed and Bounce Batey had been fighting, and for witness to take them and lock them up until morning, and that he, Batey, would pay their fine. He further testified that when Bounce Batey came from under the bridge he said to witness, "I will cut your head off," at that point witness drew his gun and quieted him. When defendant started to town after officers he requested that they send an officer with him.

Attorney Lewellyn.

Attorney Nat Lewellyn was next called. He testified that on Sunday night he had a conversation with defendant at witness home. The state's objection to the conversation between witness and defendant was sustained. That on Monday morning following the killing he had a conversation with City Marshal Arnett in which Arnett told witness that on the night of the killing defendant had told him that some one was hurt and hurt bad. Arnett had previously testified that he didn't remember making the above statement.

D. R. Emerson.

D. R. Emerson, postmaster of Marlin, was next called. He told of being sheriff of Falls county at one time, and that during that time John Richy, deceased, was charged and accused of killing Dink Wyers, brother of defendant. That he had known defendant for years, but did not know him at the time his brother was killed.

Witness was not cross-examined by Luke Russell.

Luke Russell testified that he lives in Marlin and is engaged in the horse business; has lived in the county for twenty-three years, and in Marlin for six years.

Previous to killing defendant had been staying with witness for months; slept at his place. He saw defendant at 6 o'clock on the Saturday of the killing. Didn't see him any more until he came home at 9 o'clock that night. Defendant came home and went to bed and was at witness' house the next morning. At that time defendant had no blood on his shirt and had on the same clothes he wore the afternoon before.

On cross-examination, he said that he went to the country the next morning before hearing of the killing. On his way to the country he met a man who told him of the killing. Witness had gone to bed when defendant came home, but saw defendant in the moonlight. He was cooking breakfast when defendant came downstairs and told him he was feeling pretty bad. When he finished cooking breakfast he called defendant, but he was gone. He noticed defendant's shirt particularly, and it had no blood on it. It was a light shirt with some little specks on it.

W. Y. Allgood.

W. Y. Allgood, who lives near the fair grounds, testified that he knows the defendant. He saw him on Sunday morning about 8 o'clock, walking along the road on Park street. No question by the state.

John Hughes.

John Hughes testified that he has been in this county five months. He came from McLennan county here. He had been in Marlin two months and one week, and spent that time in jail. Was released a little over a week ago, not being bailed by the grand jury.

Remembered when they put Bounce Batey in jail on Saturday night. He was asked about a conversation with Bounce Batey that night. The state objected and was sustained by the court.

L. P. Russell.

L. P. Russell, recalled by defense, stated there were no torn places on defendant's shirt, but that he could have had two shirts and make a difference.

Defense Takes Stand.

Bus Wyers, the defendant, then took the stand in his own behalf. He testified: My name is Bus Wyers. I am 25 years old. Was born in Falls county. Have lived in Marlin nearly all my life since I was four years old. Have been working with cattle and worked at fire station for three years, up until last November. Since that time have been working for Billingsley. During that time he stayed at home sometimes and sometimes with Mr. Russell. Was twelve years old when his brother was killed, 10 years ago. Has seen John Richy since that time a number of times. Richy stayed here for a while after the killing and has been back several times. During that time defendant has seen Richy a number of times and has had no trouble. On the evening of the killing he was in Marlin. He saw Bounce Reed and Clyde that day. He saw Marshal Arnett talking with Reed and threatening to lock him up. He was requested to start Reed home to keep him out of jail, and did so. He has been working for the sheriff's department off and on for some time. When they rode to the bridge witness started back, so he went on further to get him home. He stopped again at Ben Taylor's residence and told Batey to carry Reed on home, but Reed again started back with defendant. The three on horseback met John Richy in the road fixing his harness, the first to know that deceased was in that direction. He made Reed get down off the buggy when he got on it with his knife open. Richy and Batey stopped and took a drink. While they were down, defendant's horse ran away, and he got in the buggy and rode with deceased until his horse was caught. Richy told him that his mare had run away twice, and Batey said: "Ain't you big and ugly enough to hold a little mare?" That caused some words between them, but they were quieted. When they reached the bridge Clyde, Batey and Reed rode on to town, and Reed got down the buggy, take a drink, and while there

EXPERIENCE OF MOTHERHOOD

Advice to Expectant Mothers

The experience of motherhood is trying one to most women and marks distinctly an epoch in their lives. Not one woman in a hundred is prepared or unprepared how to properly care for herself. Of course nearly every woman nowadays has medical treatment at such times, but many approach the experience with an organism unfit for the trial of strength, and when it is over her system has received a shock from which it is hard to recover. Following right upon this comes the nervous strain of caring for the child, and a distinct change in the mother results.

There is nothing more charming than a happy and healthy mother of children, and借此 birth under the right conditions need be no hazard to health or beauty. The unexplainable thing is that, with all the evidence of shattered nerves and broken health resulting from an unprepared condition, and with ample time in which to prepare, women will persist in going blindly to the midwife.

Every woman at this time should rely upon Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

In many homes once children there are now children because of the fact that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound makes women normal, healthy and strong.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (General Distributor) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

to quarrel and fight. He went down to the scene of the killing and saw Reed sitting on deceased's buggy. He pulled Reed off and just then deceased walked up and stabbed deceased and said: "That will get you." Deceased did not move.

Heard it Next Day.

After the fight they went under the bridge and were there when the officers arrived. Defendant came out and Wren tried to get Batey out. Batey said: "If you are game, come and we'll try to get you out." Wren told defendant that he didn't want to hurt Batey, and for him to go to town and get Sheriff Poole. He came on to town, looking for Poole, but learned that he had left town in an auto. He staid in Marlin at Russell's house that night. The first he learned that Richy was killed and his head cut off was the next morning. On Sunday evening he learned that he was accused of the crime and that feeling against him was very high.

He was then asked what message he sent to the sheriff's department through Attorney Lewellyn, an option to which was overruled. He then stated that he told Lewellyn to tell Sheriff Poole that he would be down the next morning and give up. That he had done nothing and didn't want to lay in jail. Didn't come in on account of rumors of a mob. Left Marlin Thursday night at 12 o'clock and caught the train at the crossing in Marlin. Went first to Valley Junction and then to San Antonio, Laredo and from there to Nacogdoches where he staid until C. C. Wren came after him.

Denies the Rumors.

On cross examination defendant said he didn't say when he was arrested he "ought to come back and kill about twenty others." Had just gotten to town when Dock Wyers had the fight (on the day of the killing of Richy) and saw it. First saw Reed and Bounce at the corner of Alexander's before he went out to Russell's. The first conversation with Reed was in the alley with Arnett. Didn't see Richy, Reed and Batey in the pool hall. Didn't talk to Reed or Batey one and one-half hours in Golding's saloon. Was in the room when they came through, and followed them and Arnett in the alley to see the boy from getting bailed up. Arnett told him to take the drunk boy out of town. Was not thinking there was Arnett arrived. Mr. Russell was in the street, and they rode off and Arnett remarked: "They will go on home." Reed came back and sat across whiskey. They all stopped in the alley back of Hillyberry's saloon. Was not in the back of the saloon talking that evening. The house was not there when he went behind Golding's saloon. His horse was tied in front of Hillyberry's bakery. thinks they took a negro after Reed and Batey's horses. The other horses were back of the bank. Wasn't with Reed and Bounce nearly all the evening. Only remembers talking to them at three places. Doesn't remember talking to them in Rice's drug store. He went with the boys solely because Arnett told him to. Doesn't know who new him going to sheriff's office except a negro. He then went home. Did not change shirts. Went on to Dock's house and from there to Louis' house. There was no one in the house when he overtook Richy. Richy and the negro were on the ground. Didn't mention that Richy had killed his brother. He got off his horse and got Reed back on his horse. Didn't get off to talk with Reed or Poole. Bounce stopped with Richy and witness and Reed rode ahead. Didn't see deceased until he got home.

Was Not Home.

Defendant says he was not home but some of the boys were. The boy he was with was darker than Batey. He got his horse and got back and all started to ride home. He made Reed get down off the buggy when he got on it with his knife open. Richy and Batey stopped and took a drink. While they were down, defendant's horse ran away, and he got in the buggy and rode with deceased until his horse was caught. Richy told him that his mare had run away twice, and Batey said:

"Ain't you big and ugly enough to hold a little mare?" That caused some words between them, but they were quieted.

When they reached the bridge Clyde, Batey and Reed rode on to town, and Reed got down the buggy, take a drink, and while there in deceased's buggy didn't see Reed. Was in a hotel near Waco when the killing occurred. Would have seen him if he had been there. He stopped because he had gone as far as he could, and was ready to come back home. At that time Bounce was leading defendant's horse. Didn't get an hour and come back when his horse was caught because he was just riding along talking and didn't realize how late it was. Don't know whether Clyde Batey rode or walked up to Waco.

Fight Under the Bridge.

Bounce first went down under the bluff to water his horse. Went down by himself and never came back up on the hill. Deceased went down to get a drink and come water. Next Dad Reed went down to where they were. The next defendant heard was cursing. Reed never heard of other defendants ever having any trouble with deceased. That was only a few minutes after they got down under the bluff where the killing occurred. He could not see the water from where he was standing. He heard deceased say, "You won't do any such a thing." As soon as the fight started defendant went to where they were. Deceased was lying on the ground at that time and Reed was on top of him cutting him with his right hand and holding him with his left. He was cutting one way. He jerked him off. Bounce was right there, but didn't remember what he was doing.

Defendant said as soon as he joined Reed, Reed walked up and stabbed deceased. John Richy never said a word. Deceased's head was on his body at that time. Reed says,

"Two words above or I will give you some of it."

He didn't stay there any time after he pulled Reed off. He left Bounce and Reed there. Didn't tell Clyde Batey that "they killed him, but I knocked him down." Clyde didn't say, "Yes, you killed him and got Bounce and Reed into trouble and it will break me up to get them out of it."

Didn't tell Clyde that he "played hell when he phoned for Arnett."

Witness said he was strong enough to throw some bulls, and had done it, and that he weighs 170 pounds. He got on the I. & G. N. train and rode on to the depot in the summer. Didn't hide when the train stopped at the depot. Lost his hat on the train and bought a new one in San Antonio. Stayed in San Antonio two and a half hours. In Laredo nearly one day. Bought some clothes in San Antonio. From there he went to Nacogdoches, where he stayed a week and a half. Went to town, but didn't get a shave. Was not related to the people where he stayed. Was a good friend to the girl. She was his sweetheath.

Chorished No Ill Will.

He said he cherished no ill will against Richy. Had never heard much about his killing his brother, as it happened when he was very young.

He was then asked if it was not a fact that his mother had said that she would never be satisfied until deceased's head was cut off. Defense counsel objected, but was overruled. Witness answered no to the question.

He was then asked if his brother, Dock, had not tried to kill deceased, an objection to which was sustained.

The shirt he wore the night of the killing was left at home Sunday morning, and is now in the jail. He testified.

At this juncture the court recessed until 3 o'clock.

Afternoon Session.

The defendant, Bus Wyers, who was on the stand at adjournment at noon, was recalled at 3 p. m. He testified that the early part of Sunday night he spent at Lawyer Lewellyn's home and the rest of the night he spent at the fair grounds. He spent Monday in the woods and that night he again stayed at the fair grounds. He spent Tuesday and Tuesday night in a vacant house near the slaughter house. Wednesday he went down toward Big Creek about two miles from Marlin and spent that night at the same place he stayed the night before. He spent Thursday in the woods on the creek. He came to town and caught the train that night. He got what he ate during that time at home. He again described the fight between Dad Reed and deceased as it was described in the morning session.

Acta Over the Killing.

Mr. Lincoln was then stretched on the courthouse floor, representing deceased, and defendant took the position of Dad Reed and demonstrated how the transaction took place. At that time he saw deceased's head but did not examine it, did not see the head roll off and did not see it after it was cut off. He was sure that the head was on the body at that time, and the head was still on the body when deceased stabbed him. He thought deceased was either dead or dying at that time. He says he told Mr. Arnett that there was a man killed down the creek and it was John Richy. Arnett asked him what was going on and he said they had had a free-for-all fight and he thought Richy was dead. He didn't go to see his lawyer at that time. He thinks Reed had had of deceased's shoulders when he cut him. The only thing he remembers hearing Richy say is, "You won't do any such a damn thing." He and Richy had had no quarrel or hard words that night. They were friends and on good terms.

This concluded Wyers' testimony on the defense's part.

COTTON MARKET

JULY NOTICES ARE CIRCULATED FREELY AND AUGUST WAS A PURCHASE.

Predictions for Rain in the Belt Were Made—Cotton Is at a Standstill.

New York, June 27.—The cotton market was steady and lower on new market liquidation caused by the circulation of July notices and continued sales of new crop months based on favorable crop or weather advised. The close was steady at a net decline of 1 to 5 points on old crop and of 1 to 5 points on new crop months.

The market opened steady at unchanged prices to a decline of 3 points. The July notices were estimated at 15,000 bales and it was anticipated that they would be stopped with reasonable promptness but their circulation through the street brought out quite a lot of scattering liquidation. Prices gradually worked lower under this pressure and during the afternoon July contracts sold about 3 points under August contracts. Some of the people who were selling July seemed to bring about a premium on that position, and there also appeared to be some buying of the new crop months by people who were liquidating old crop positions.

Predictions for showery or cloudy weather in the belt, and reiterated reports that the storm in the gulf might cause beneficial rains in Texas inspired scattered offerings of new crop deliveries, and those positions sold about 5 to 7 points net lower in sympathy with the old crop break. Close the prices were a shade up from the lowest on covering.

It was rumored that houses with Liverpool connections had stopped a good part of the July notices, but reports from ocean freight circles claimed that so far there was little fresh demand for room for July shipment from New York.

Week-end figures were considered rather bullish and were a sustaining factor in the late trading.

New Orleans

New Orleans, June 27.—The cotton market was quiet today, but it maintained a good underline. Bears continued to hold back, offered little short cotton, but a moderate demand served to hold prices up. Buying was based on the continued dry weather in the belt, although the bears were hopeful that the disturbance in the Gulf of Mexico would bring relief to the droughty conditions.

The market opened quiet, 2 points down to 4 points up compared with the last quotations of yesterday. Cottons were better than due, but much uncertainty was felt over July notices in New York and rumors that they amounted to 16,000 to 24,000 bales caused July to fall slightly under yesterday's closing level. The report that spot houses were stopping notices gave some recovery and put the Net 4 to 5 points up.

Toward the middle of the morning the forecast for unsettled and showery weather in the western belt and in the southern portions of Alabama and Mississippi caused some selling and the trading houses want 2 points under yesterday's last quotations. In the afternoon the market was dull but very steady. The close was 4 to 6 points over yesterday's final figure, a level within a point or two of the highest of the day.

CITY MAY PIPE NATURAL GAS HERE

MAYOR ASKS TOWN'S ATTORNEY
IF BOND ISSUE IS LEGAL FOR THE PURPOSE.

TO DO SO AS A LAST RESORT

Mayer Thinks Bringing of Natural Gas Will Abrogate Contract of Light and Power Co.

Should all other plans fail, the city may through a bond issue provide money to pipe natural gas from the Mexia fields to Waco. This at least was the sense of the commissioners' meeting yesterday morning.

Mayor J. H. Mackey brought up the question of a natural gas supply for the city and urged that it was very important that Waco secure the supply. He favored having the gas company which is at present supplying the city's demand, pipe the gas into Waco, or some private company or people build the line. However, as a last resort, should no such company take up the proposition, he favored the municipality floating a bond issue to build the line.

In this connection he brought with him to the meeting a copy of the contract between the city of Waco and the Texas Power and Light company, which company now furnishes gas to the city. The mayor had read the contract previous to the meeting to see what provision was made for the protection under the contract of the city. In the event natural gas was piped into Waco, he re-read that clause of the article to the commissioners and they construed it to provide that in the event natural gas was obtainable and was piped into Waco, the present contract with the light and power company was abrogated.

Settling this point the mayor requested the city attorney to look into the provisions of the city charter, to determine if the municipality has the power under that act to float a bond issue to build the pipe line.

City Attorney John Maxwell, without investigating the matter, said that in his opinion the city could float bonds for that purpose, but would determine the matter immediately.

Commissioner Caufield and Littlefield asked for minute investigation before any action was taken in the matter of calling a bond election. They agreed if the gas could be secured it was very important to do so.

Mayor Mackey expressed himself as being of the opinion that natural gas means more to Waco than any other proposition that had ever been presented the city.

The mayor also said there was constant complaint from citizens that the Texas Power and Light company was not giving the best service and he asked whether their franchise or the charter compels them to supply all private consumers who apply.

City Secretary John Davis replied that the understanding had been they were to lay mains and supply all private applicants, where there were as many as three consumers in a block. This, however, he said, was not incorporated in the contract.

A report from the city attorney as to the power of the city in the matter of floating a bond issue for building the pipe line is expected at the next meeting.

ALESSANDRO GETS CONTRACT

Will Give First Concert of the Summer Season on Next Sunday.

V. Alessandro's band will again this summer furnish music for the park concerts. Finance Commissioner T. A. Caufield, to whom bids for the concerts were referred, yesterday recommended the selection of the Alessandro band. The concerts are to be given under the same terms as those of last year. The Alessandro bid first submitted was twenty-two concerts for $1,300. Mr. Caufield and the park commissioners took the matter up with him personally, and secured an agreement to furnish twenty-four concerts at the same price. This was the contract of last year.

The first concert of the season will be played Sunday next at from 5 to 7 o'clock at Cameron park.

Only one other bid, that of the Baylor band, was presented. This bid was only on ten concerts.

Orman Case is Unsettled.

Proposed a trade whereby he would be permitted to retain a strip of land 8x165 feet from the west side of the city commons, being portion of the tract of land north of Washington street and east of where First street would run if extended. W. R. Orman, accompanied by his attorney, Judge J. H. Gallagher, appeared before the city commission yesterday. Mr. Orman asked the commission to settle the suit now in the Nineteenth district court in which the city is suing him for possession of the land, with the provision that he retains that tract of land north of Washington street and east of where First street would run if extended. W. R. Orman agreed to pay Mr. Orman $500 for immediate possession of the land and whatever title he held on the land.

Judge Gallagher explained his client's desires, but no action was taken by the board, Mayor Mackey stating the commission would treat the strip asked for as a separate matter after the question of ownership was settled in the courts.

ANTI-SALOON LEAGUE EVIDENCE

Witnesses Appear Before County Attorney—Mother Will Take Legal Course.

Ex-parte hearing of information relative to alleged liquor violations in Waco were again conducted by County Attorney John McNamara yesterday. Members of the official staff of the Anti-Saloon League and others it is understood, were among those who appeared before the attorney. These gave whatever information they had as to violations of the law.

Their information, it is presented, was in line with the evidence they had secured and which was made public at the called meeting of the Anti-Saloon League held Thursday.

In regard to the hearing the county attorney's office made no statement as none of the witnesses who appeared, as the hearings are in the nature of a grand jury investigation and are not made public.

With reference to the alleged violations which had been recited to him, Mr. McNamara stated that he would be prepared to give a statement on some of it he had taken the proper steps in the matter. He said the information would be treated the same as that concerning any other misdemeanor, which might be reported to his office, and that he would pursue the same course in this instance. He would pursue in prosecuting any other violation of the law, which came to his knowledge.

The evidence presented, it is understood, was more directly with reference to the alleged sale of liquor in the reservation. He said no information has leaked out that any serious violation of the laws has been charged against any proprietor of a licensed saloon.

However, as the hearing is entirely private, public knowledge of the information in the hands of the prosecutor is withheld.

Report of City Physician E. Toonkin, for the month of May, submitted to the commission yesterday morning, failed to record any negro births for the month. The physician also showed there were more deaths than births in the city for the month. According to his figures there were thirty-one white births in the city during the month, and no negro births; there were also thirty-nine deaths, thirty-two whites and seven negroes.

Smallpox was the leading contagious disease of the month. Twenty-four cases were reported by physicians, and twenty-eight persons were treated for the infection. Thirteen are now under quarantine. There were three cases of diphtheria, two of whom have been released from quarantine and one is still under regulation.

According to Dr. Toonkin's report, taking the population of the city at 60,000, the death rate is 21.7. Of the deaths during the month, twelve were under the age of 5 years.
